

Dear Friends ,

On December 8, 2012 the Pineyvale Herd was dispersed after severe storm damage to the barn roof. We are still thankful for the tremendous support of our local community and our extended dairy family.

After some soul-searching and some empty feelings at afternoon chortime, when everyone was usually together in the barn, we decided to start milking again albeit on a smaller scale. The cows in the herd today are the results of keeping back a few calves for the boys to show and the extraordinary opportunity to reload with some young animals from our friends and fellow breeders. The herd has never been better.

I called this sale the Pineyvale 20/20 because I never have liked the word dispersal - it sounds too much like disappear! It is a play on the year 2020, with the thought of having 20/20 or a clear vision. It is an opportunity for you to see the kind of cows so many of you have helped develop, cows that can be part of your success.

A word about Dave and Carolyn Post, known affectionately around these parts as “Father” and “Mother”. They are the kind of hardworking, caring people that made this country great. If everyone took care of their people, their animals, their land the way they have, we wouldn’t see all the nonsense going on in this country right now. Thanks for the opportunity to be part of your family . I also want to thank my dad, Walter McClure, who also had a great herd of cows and gave me my love for the Holstein cow. The great bull Doorman traces back on the top and bottom sides to cows who spent part of their lives in the Windswept herd. I never met anyone who did less complaining than my father. Carolee and I also want to thank both of our families for all they have done for us!

Often I look back and wonder why Carolee ever married me. I love her more every day. As most of you know, she is truly special. I also am thankful for my two sons, Lance and Daniel, amazing gifts from God.

If you have any questions about the cows, please ask! We will be honest - we want you to be satisfied . Come celebrate with us on October 24th!

Sincerely,

Allen McClure
